WHITE PAPER

Why Crypto

A challenging question for the majority of the cryptocurrency community and, at the same time, a mission that initially seemed impossible to us arose from the presence of our project in the field of crypto cryptocurrency.

Unlike all unsuccessful versions of the cryptocurrency market, our project will offer a new form of combining cryptocurrency opportunities and achieving a lofty goal in the vast animal community around the world since we argue that the cryptocurrency community is the great power of powerless creatures.

We know that you want to play a role in changing and ensuring the well-being of animals, but you may not have found a suitable platform for this to date. Our platform has created a golden opportunity for animal advocates around the world through which each user sponsors campaigns in addition to increasing his/her capital through us.

Why MALITOKEN

Theoretical and legal issues of animals and related challenges have been largely neglected although human rights and their theoretical and procedural foundations are very popular. Animal rights may challenge some aspects of human rights because the equality of human rights and animal rights, as well as the difference between the two, is established only in the sense of suffering and the presumption of emotion and the power of expression in animals.

Belgian Malinois, the guardian of peace, which was born in 1981 to the medical school by the Hobart brothers, completed all of its assigned missions successfully. This time, the hero Malinois, in a huge challenge in the crypto space, seeks to realize the contribution of its fellow breeds and, if possible, the large animal community by connecting the separate links of the global animal protection chain, which is the same animal rights campaigns. It makes it possible for every one of you the real animal advocates by offering its platform tokens on the popular blockchain, Binance Smart Chain .

Our concern

Animals are members of the moral community. Animal welfare means their right to enjoy well-being in life and to increase their well-being with the protection of the law and legislation with an animal protection approach.

Animal welfare advocates have concerns such as killing them for food or recreation, using them for scientific research, using them in zoos and circuses, food and health poverty, and lack of shelter. These are just some of the threats to animal life. So, groups around the world have begun spontaneous and popular activities in the form of campaigns to combat such anti-animal behavior, as well as to provide food and shelter for animals.

Unfortunately, these activities have not been enough and effective due to the large population of animals and the high volume of their challenges. Our project has new and practical ideas in the world of cryptocurrency due to its attractive levers and potential. Our alternate goal is to unite all animal-friendly groups and campaigns around the world with your participation. These separate circles will become a chain of attention and well-being of the animal community with your participation.

Interestingly, even in the field of cryptocurrency, we see the use of the names and shapes of native dogs and cats in each location by a large number of different projects to sell their tokens, projects sometimes briefly mention the extinction of certain breeds and the vital threats to them in their goals and even have provided facilities for the participation of cryptocurrency users, such as SHIBA INU, in parts of their platform. Accordingly, there is a lot of appreciation and thanks to the leaders and managers of these projects.

We want to stress the importance of saving and ensuring the well-being of these earthly angels requires more attention and more practical action.

This is where Malinois, the hero, uses its ability and intelligence to solve problems with the powerful leverage of Malitoken. It needs strong executive arms to strengthen animal protection campaigns.

ROAD MAP

The biggest question for our team is whether people like Elon Musk lead a technocratic revolution with dogs. Dogecoin is now more valuable than Twitter with the help of Musk. Shiba Inu commands an army of supporters of a beautiful breed. What magical power lies in the nature of these purest creatures of God, causing them to be a source of goodness even in the businesses of their owners? Isn't it time for these faithful creatures to own the business of their names and spend all the proceeds to improve the welfare of their fellow breeds? There will be a great revolution in the animal community if human beings who love animals intelligently monitor these matters. Our project team no longer sees these tokens as mere means of making money but to advancing a pioneering technology.

TAlthough blockchain is a special technology, this project will not be just a technological revolution, but a huge transformation in the Big Bang dimension in the field of culture of dealing with animals. These sacred tokens are a joint investment opportunity between humans and animals. We promise you that you will see exponential profits in your wallets while strengthening weak and needy animal protection campaigns by investing in Malitokens. This is because our philanthropic project has been sponsored by many great figures in various fields of sports, art, cinema, and politics. Thus, we will have big and impressive names in our holder box.

This is just the beginning. We plan to quickly transfer our platform to our dedicated blockchain so that malitoken sponsors and investors can experience a safe and inexpensive platform to transfer their money with us. Our goals are big, and the tools we have now are few. We claim cultural innovation in the world of technology provided that we feel the warm presence of each of you alongside the Malitoken project.

Conclusion

The Malitoken community, which started with the seed of a spiritual idea, enters the world of cryptocurrencies with a minimal budget and a simple leadership of animal protection campaigns in the world where financial problems have become a major obstacle to their animal-friendly activities. By introducing its financial platform, the community has provided the opportunity for individual lovers of street dogs and cats to play an important role in providing shelter for these terrestrial angels as their capital grows.

Our team has volunteered for a great, amazing job and sees a shining light at the end of the tunnel. We are determined to make our dreams come true and believe that the path in which BTC is flagging the world's counter-movement system can be used as a pretext to save animals because all of our members have a common goal and start a new era of animal rights advocacy. In our opinion, it is time for supporters of stray dogs and cats to put their vision into practice globally in cryptocurrency.

Malitoken will be an important point of contact between the nascent decentralized world and the animal-friendly global community, enabling us to make our view to the widespread acceptance of cryptocurrency Defi. We acknowledge that none of this would have been possible without your participation.

We rise, we change.
